BAMBERG'S BEER SPECIALTY FOR CENTURIES

Original Schlenkerla Smokebeer

Schlenkerla has become a magic word for a long time, but many do not know where this word originated. Its roots lie within the Frankish vernacular, in which "schlenkern" is an expression for walking not straight - just like a drunken person does. One of the former brewers had a funny way of walking due to an accident, or maybe due to the beer, and so he was called the "Schlenkerla" - the little dangler. Eventually the word became synonymous for the brewery.

Smokebeer from Schlenkerla is a dark, aromatic, bottom fermented beer with 13.5 percent original extract, which is equivalent to an alcohol content of 5.1 percent. No doubt: there are stronger beers, but nevertheless, one should not underestimate Aecht Schlenkerla Rauchbier, it can make you "schlenker" quite a bit. Its smoky flavor is being achieved by exposing the malt to the intense, aromatic smoke of burning beech-wood logs at the Schlenkerla maltings. After mixing it with premium-class hops in the brew, it matures in 600 year old cellars, deep down in the hills of Bamberg, into a mellow, magnificent-tasting beer, best drunk directly in "Schlenkerla". An Original amongst the beers, even amongst the Bavarian beers. The connoisseur drinks it slowly with relish, but steadily and purposefully. He knows, that the second "Seidla" (half-liter) tastes better than the first, and the third even better than the second. He drinks during the morning pint and during the afternoon break. He drinks it in the evenings, drinks it alone and with company, especially with company, as "Aecht Schlenkerla Rauchbier" makes one talkative and exuberant. It brings together the local with the stranger, as it is common in Franconia to share your table with others.

"Even if the brew tastes somewhat strange at the first swallow, do not stop, because soon you will realize that your thirst will not decrease and your pleasure will visibly increase."

As one of the last two traditionally made smoked beers in the world, Schlenkerla (together with Spezial) is passenger in the Ark of Taste by Slow Food®.

From the Smokebeer Brewery

from the wooden barrel:

Aecht Schlenkerla Rauchbier Märzen 0,5l € 4,10

The original smokebeer and Bamberg's specialty. A dark Märzen style lager, brewed with traditionally made smoked malt from the in-house maltings. As this production method has become almost extinct, Schlenkerla Smokebeer is a passenger in the Ark of Taste of Slow Food®. 5.1% Alc./Vol.

Aecht Schlenkerla Rauchweizen 0,5l € 4,40

A smoked wheat beer (ale) with light smoky aroma. Brewed with a mixture of both wheat- and barley malt. The barley malt is a classic Schlenkerla smokemalt, while the wheat malt remains unsmoked. 5.2% Alc./Vol.

Weichsel Red Lager with cherrywood smoke 0,5l € 4,10

The malt for the red beer is dried over a fire with high-quality cherry wood. In contrast to the spicy beech smoked malt, the cherry smoked malt has a fruity, almost sweet smoky aroma. 4.6% Alc./Vol.

Aecht Schlenkerla Rauchbier - Hansla low-alcohol 0,5l € 3,90

The traditional alternative to water: Almost alcohol-free smokebeer brewed according to a historic Bamberg brewing technique. 0.9% Alc./Vol.

Heinzlein low alcohol

Brewed according to an original old recipe and almost without alcohol: The Heinzlein of the Hellerbräu from Bamberg. The team at the Hellerbräu has brought a long forgotten brewing technique back to life. The result is a beer with only 0.9% alcohol which is the ideal alternative for everyone who enjoys beer but wants to keep a clear head. Notably hoppy, full in flavor and refreshingly tangy at the same time. Find out more at www.Heinzlein.de

Helles (pale) Heinzlein 0,5l € 3,90

Unfiltered, bottom fermented beer with pronounced hop flavors. Straightforward, full of aroma and light. Only 0.9% alc. and 10 kcal per 100ml.

Dunkles (dark) Heinzlein 0,5l € 3,90

Dark, bottom fermented beer with dark roasted malt. Strong and slightly bitter roast aromas. Only 0.9% alc. and 10 kcal per 100ml.

Schlenkerla Craft Kitchen

As for our smoked beer, we also make for our food a point of an all traditional and natural preparation. That's why we do not use any artificial flavourings or industrially made products. We only use fresh, preferably regional ingredients and pay great attention to quality when selecting them. Patience and time are also very important and indispensable for our traditional cuisine – genuine franconian and just as it was during grandmother's days. You can taste that too. In order to bring all the dishes fresh to the table for you every day, our kitchen team starts preparing them daily at 7 a.m.. As we therefore can not produce more on short notice, it can happen in the course of our daily business that some dishes sell out. We kindly ask for your understanding. Enjoy your meal!

The History of Smoked Beer

Preserving tradition means to keep the fire burning, not to conserve the ashes.

A great many stories have grown up around the origins of Smokebeer. Some are quite imaginative, others are a bit strange. The majority can be considered fairy-tales and fables.

Beer drinking Babylonians almost 4.000 years ago

The Sumerians and Babylonians already knew of the art of brewing beer which was then later perfected by the German tribes in Roman times. The basic process in those days was similar to the one today - apart from the technical instruments. Green malt always had to be dried, “kilned” as brewers call it. In the past, besides the usage of sun rays, which was quite difficult in Middle and Northern Europe, there was only one way of kilning: Drying the grain over an open fire. Thus it was unavoidable that smoke penetrated the malt and gave it a smoky flavor.

Technical developments over the centuries made it possible to dry malt indirectly without open fire and thus without smoky taste. As this new technology was cheaper and usable for mass production, virtually all of the old smoke kilns vanished. But Aecht Schlenkerla Rauchbier preserved the old craft tradition of smoking the malt in Bamberg until today. Therefore you are, in effect, having a little piece of beer history with every swallow.
